

Approving Sustainable Highlands...

...what does that mean?

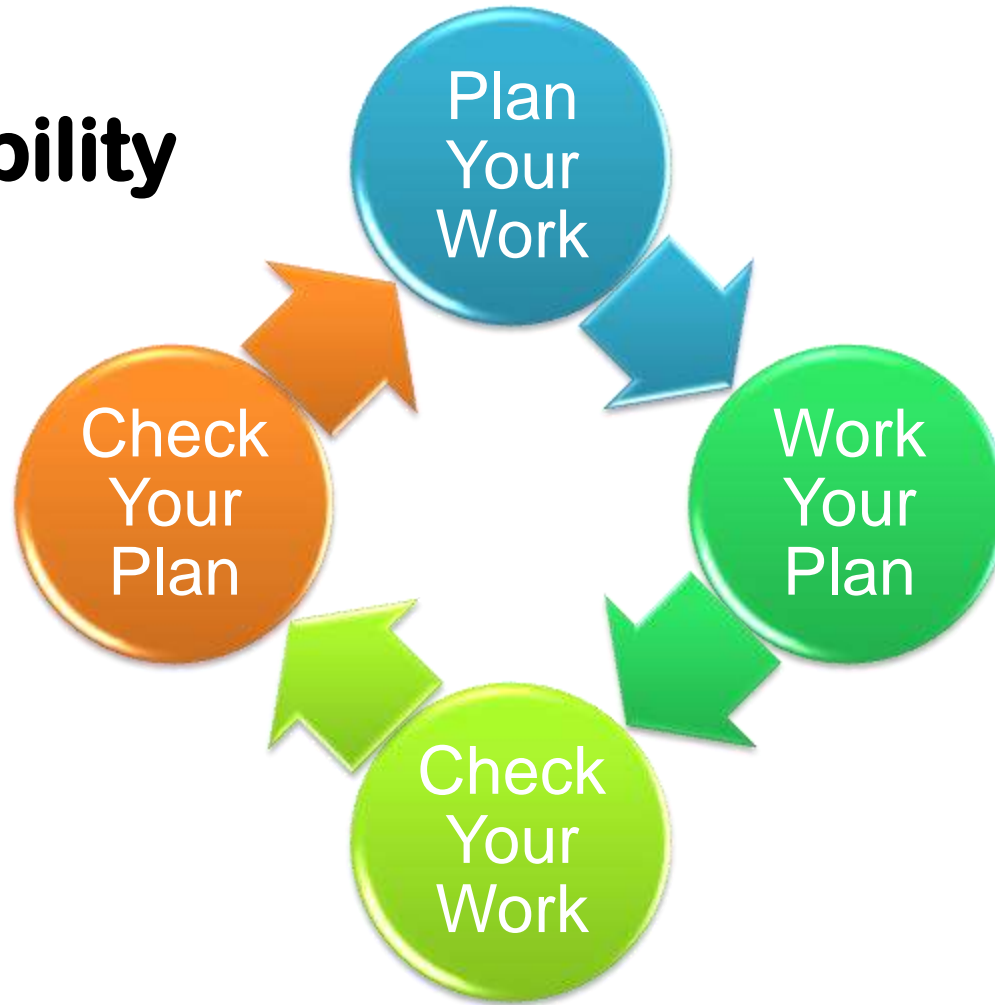

...what will change?

...what will be worse?

...what will be better?

Approving Sustainable Highlands...what does that mean?

Looping Process with Accountability

Approving Sustainable Highlands...what does that mean?

ICSP is very similar to OCP and supporting documents

...It's already there...

ICSP – Strategy Areas	OCP – Chapters
Buildings and Sites	<ul style="list-style-type: none">•Land Use•Services and Utilities•Social Wellbeing•Development Permit Areas
Economy and Work	Economic Diversification

...what will change?

- Communicate Sustainable Highlands with everyone... that includes training
- Confirm alignment of OCP and Sustainable Highlands
- Measure, track and report on progress (Indicators) – Accountability

Hey...If we find out we're already happy with OCP, then we tweak the ICSP...

And now for the fun part...

...2012 Priority ACTIONS!!

HEY - WE ALREADY DID THIS ONE!

Develop and adopt a sustainability appraisal form for buildings and developments;

Hold training sessions on how to use and implement the Highlands ICSP with committees and community groups;

Create a volunteer Local Food Production Task Force that would promote local food production and consumption;

Create an ongoing, interactive sustainability section on the District of Highlands website;

Develop and implement a communications strategy for the Highlands ICSP;

Develop policies for protection and restoration of representative Coastal Douglas-Fir habitat in all land use and development policies, regulations and decisions;

Create a carpooling and park-n-ride strategy;

Implement the Roadside Trail Plan and cycling lanes;

Task CISSC to provide annual recommendations to Council on strategies to reduce car use in the Highlands.

...what will be worse?

This means the rubber hits the road...There's been enough planning...NOW:

Work...Measure...Adjust...Work More...Measure...Adjust...Work More...

...But you are ready
... *You are Highlanders

...what will be better?

Goals and Vision become

Reality
