

HIGHLANDS ORAL HISTORY PROJECT

Do you have memories about living in the Highlands, or old photos or maps that you would like to share?

The Highlands Heritage Select Committee is beginning to work on the Highlands Oral History Project and would like the opportunity to interview you.

The goal of the project is to document people's experiences and perspectives of the Highlands by collecting stories about daily life. We would like to ask you about things such as what drew you to the Highlands, how you would describe your neighbourhood, and changes you have seen in the roads and other infrastructure over time. We also want to know about ways that you have been involved in the community, what types of activities you enjoy in the Highlands, and if you have any favourite places or trails.

The information collected through the interviews will be used for educational purposes, and may be used in publications, presentations and exhibits, multimedia productions, and online Internet productions.
