SOLAR ENERGY: POLITICS, POLICY AND PRACTICE

Featuring Colwood Councillor Judith Cullington and Highland citizens Gord and Ann Baird of Eco-Sense

Wednesday, February 22, 2012 | 7:30 PM

The Old School House, 1589 Millstream Road

Colwood Councillor Judith Cullington has offered to kick off the evening by speaking about their program which has targeted the installation of 1000 solar hot water systems in Colwood. She will share stories on the challenges encountered and the lessons learned.

Afterwards Ann and Gord Baird from the internationally famous Eco-Sense house here in the Highlands will share images and stories on their own journey in creating the internationally famous Eco-Sense home right here in the Highlands. They will explain how they came to integrate Solar PV and Solar Thermal technologies into a passive solar earthen home. The Baird's home has earned international recognition as the greenest home ever rated on the world's greenest building program.
